

As a growing start-up, we found all matters HR-related to be a pain point in hiring new employees at a rapid pace. Algentis provided immediate relief by streamlining the systems for benefits, payroll, and HR compliance. With their diligent attention and helpful knowledge, we feel our employees are already reaping the rewards of a good decision made to sign up with Algentis. Algentis rocks!

Julia Hartz, President
Eventbrite

Algentis simplifies operations for businesses by assuming the burden of employee administration more cost-effectively than handling it yourself. Our service seamlessly integrates payroll, benefits, insurance, and HR compliance.

- Simplicity Employee administration is time-consuming, complex and typically involves many disaggregated providers. Algentis simplifies employee administration by becoming the single point of contact. Our onboarding process is short and efficient.
- Focus The key to our high level of service is focus. We only work with small and medium-sized businesses (2-100 employees) in three industry sectors: technology, financial management, and professional services.
- Transparency The Algentis Online System allows you to view all of your company and employee information whenever you need it. We pay all of your vendors for you and provide detailed billing with no hidden fees or mark ups.
- Customization We negotiate benefits at rates reserved for large companies and you customize your suite of benefits from these premier providers. We ensure that the benefits meet your budget, are in line with competitive benchmarks and attract the talent you need.
- Expertise We are really good at what we do. Our team of HR professionals has deep experience with clear responsibilities to provide utmost responsiveness. Let us handle employee administration so you can focus on your area of expertise.

The Algentis service offering has four components designed to simplify ongoing operations. Clients love how Algentis offloads many time-consuming processes such as onboarding new employees and ensuring compliance with employee terminations. Employees love to have a dedicated team of professionals that answer all questions and can handle the most complex situations.

Band of Angels knows it is imperative for entrepreneurs to focus their time and energy on core areas of the business. Therefore, Band of Angels has designated Algentis as its Premier HR Provider to handle the critical aspects of HR for its entrepreneurs. If you would like to learn more about how Algentis can simplify employee administration for you and your employees, please contact us via email (band@algentis.com) or phone (415.962.7571).

